I can now see where all those people at the Pearce School meeting came from. They were certainly not the few Sunsites property owners who had a legal right to vote. That was a crowd of property owners from out in the desert, far enough to be protected from the commercialization the developers will bring. They stand to benefit from a large grocery market + drug store just a couple miles from their property but not right next door! Their acreage will increase in value.

Now that our peace + friendliness is threatened, it seems to be hard to find buyers for homes on the market all over Sunsites - not just near Treasure Rd.

Growth by attracting more people to move from wetter states to the dry desert increases the load on Apache Station power plant - more A/c, more power to recharge batteries etc etc.

PEARCE - SUNSITES
